

Five major corporations already own the majority of the US broadcast media. Further media deregulation will result in more media consolidation resulting in a further reduction in differing opinions being disseminated by the broadcast media. This goes against democracy and everything the US is supposed to represent. The FCC should NOT allow further media deregulation to occur.